Good news to share? Please write us at info@bnaiemunah.com so that we can draw our congregational community still closer together.

GRATITUDE

Or deep thanks to the Brouse-Windland Family for its support of Sukkot Dinner at the Synagogue. Coming together outdoors was a great relief and a promise of things to come. Despite the pandemic, we managed to accomplish eight different gatherings for our members and friends that restored a sense of living in three dimensions once again. Thanks again to the Brouses and to everyone who helped make this happen.

MASTHEAD

ON THE COVER

These nondescript metal doors mark the entrance to the synagogue on Flower Street in Kabul, the last surviving synagogue in Afghanistan. It ceased to function in a meaningful way years ago, but until the first week in September of this year, it was the home of Zvulun Simantov, the last Jew of Afghanistan, who has now taken refuge in New York. Mr. Simantov is a colorful and controversial figure, but his departure was the final episode in the history of a 2,000-year-old community that was both numerous and influential.

We are now involved in the massive project to resettle Afghan refugees who served American forces prior to their departure. Please see Rabbi Kaiman's article on page 8 in this issue.

SEPTEMBER CALENDAR HIGHLIGHTS

TWO RABBIS AND...

Every Friday, October 1, 8, 15, 2, 29 at 11:00 a.m. Rabbis Kaiman and Fitzerman convene a weekly conversation to foreground news of the day, interview special guests, and talk about ideas relevant to Jewish community life. It's an ongoing conversation about our shared journey in a diverse, multicultural Jewish world. Join us on Zoom at 918 583 7121 for the recording. The resulting podcast is available on Spotify, iTunes, and the Synagogue website.

SHABBAT TOGETHER

Every Friday, October 1, 8, 15, 22, 29 at 5:30 p.m. The portal moments of candle lighting, kiddush, and the first bite of challah, remind us that Shabbat is an ideal time to enjoy time in each other's company. Shabbat Together is a short, digital gathering where we take a few moments to connect with the whole community as we enter Shabbat. We hope that this experience will be especially meaningful to those who are mourning a loved one or observing the anniversary of a loss (yahrtzeit). We'll conclude everything in time for you to enjoy a Shabbat meal at home. Synagogue Zoom Room, Meeting ID: 918 583 7121.

PANIM EL PANIM AND B'YACHAD

Every Saturday, October 2, 9, 16, 23, 30 at 9:30 a.m. Our tradition speaks of the special power that exists when people gather together for prayer. Panim el Panim is a live broadcast service on Zoom led by Rabbis Fitzerman and Kaiman. Rooted in the traditional practice of the Synagogue, we focus on the concerns of the liturgy, Torah study, and offering prayer for those in need of healing. Our handbook is Siddur Eit Ratzon, a fully transliterated presentation of the Shabbat morning service with expert commentary and guidance. Shabbat Yachad is a COVID-safe gathering in the Synagogue Sanctuary marking our incremental return to life in three dimensions. We'll be digital on October 2, 16, and 30, and three- dimensional on October 9 and 23. To take part in the digital celebration, join us in our Synagogue Zoom Room, Meeting ID: 918 583 7121. To participate in Shabbat Yachad, please make your reservation at tulsagogue.com.

BAKER'S DOZEN EVERY MONDAY

Every Monday between noon and 5:30 p.m. Our cookie-baking program is back and we are eager for new bakers! As COVID-19 cases rise, we are collecting cookies, bars, and single-serve baked goods and delivering them immediately to frontline workers around the city. All are invited to participate and any gift in any amount is appreciated. Please wear a mask and deliver your cookies to the designated table at the Synagogue entrance on Mondays from 12:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. If you have any questions, please contact Natalie Shaver at nshaver@bnaiemunah.com.

9, 23 BAR MITZVAH CELEBRATIONS

We're happy to announce the coming celebrations in honor of Gavin Zelkind on October 9 at 9:30 a.m. and Brock Taubman on October 23 at 6:30 p.m. Both young men have been preparing for bar mitzvah for the past year. Please see the two articles elsewhere in this edition of the Messenger.

14 BLATT + BLUE: THE JAZZ SINGER

What do we do with a classic film that tackles key issues of belonging and identity but packages those questions in a deeply problematic way? These matters will be up for discussion on October 14, when Blatt + Blue tackles Al Jolson's The Jazz Zinger. See article elsewhere in this issue. Starting time is 7:00 p.m. and the Zoom access number is 918 583 7121

18 INTRO: ROUND 3

Every Monday beginning October 18 until November 22 at 7:30 p.m. Rabbi Kaiman continues with the third unit of his Introduction to Judaism course for the whole community. The class is open to all students, including those considering conversion, adult learners looking for deeper understanding, those with Jewish spouses or extended family, and high school students involved in interfaith relations. Sessions loop through the entire calendar year and each session is self-contained. Please make contact with Rabbi Kaiman at rdk@bnaiemunah.com to register for this course.

21 BRAIDING WITH BRAE

Why do we braid challah? To make it beautiful. Our own Brae Riley is a talented braiding artist who regularly shares his accomplished artistry during our Zoom celebrations. For this workshop, Brae will help us develop our skills and deepen our bread braiding toolkit. Contact Natalie Shaver at nshaver@bnaiemunah.com to reserve free challah dough for curbside pick-up the afternoon of this experience, or feel free to make your favorite dough and have it ready for braiding along with us. We'll put it in our home ovens and have fresh challah for Shabbat.

24 REFUGEE RESETTLEMENT ORIENTATION

The Synagogue is now moving forward as part of the federal effort to resettle refugees in the U.S. Please attend this orientation with Rabbi Kaiman to debrief on the contours of this program and our partnership with Catholic Charities and HIAS, the oldest Jewish agency involved in refugee relief. It takes months to be credentialed as a receiving organization and the effort requires a high level of community organization and support. All Jewish community volunteers are welcome to this introductory session. The session will begin at 10:00 a.m. on Zoom at 918 583 7121.

24 TO+GATHER: LIONS, TIGERS, AND BEARS

Our Sunday morning program for families with children under four is back in person! Families are invited to join us at 10:30 a.m. in the garden south of the Synagogue for a morning of story, song, movement, craft and snack. This month we'll focus on the story of Noah and the ark and our responsibilities to care for animals in our world. Please be in touch with Morah Sara at slevitt@bnaiemunah.com to hold your spot or for questions.

29 SHABBAT FOR EVERYONE

We are back on schedule with an outdoor Shabbat meal to celebrate the beginning of cooler fall weather. We'll begin with a festive meal and continue with the music and words of celebration. Please make your reservations on the Synagogue website at www.tulsagogue.com

HIGH HOLIDAY
SERMONS ARE NOW ON THE SYNAGOGUE
WEBSITE

FROM RABBI FITZERMAN

HAITI

Because grand-scale crisis is the order of the day, we barely have time to think about the one in front of us before we are slammed, head on, by the next that crosses the centerline of the highway. The earthquake that struck Haiti in the middle of August killed almost as many people as were murdered in the leveling of the World Trade Center towers, yet that story was buried almost as soon as it happened. I wouldn't be thinking about it now if it were not for the cruelties that collected around the encampment of fleeing Haitians under the highway overpass in Del Rio, Texas.

This administration was supposed to be better than the last, at least on questions having to do with immigration. And I'll say flatly that it is, but you wouldn't know it from the images that were broadcast in the middle of September. Fourteen thousand people huddled under a bridge is a whole lot of desperate migrants, along with the squalor that inevitably accumulates when terrified human beings try to make a shelter for themselves in terrible circumstances. That overpass was a kind of sukkah in the middle of our celebration of Sukkot, but without the beauty, air, and lightness of the holiday we celebrated.

And then there was the matter of Federal agents on horse-back. Whether or not they used the reins of their horses to whip displaced Haitians back across the border to Mexico, it is simply unconscionable to treat human beings like cattle. In fact, it is frequently unconscionable to treat cattle like cattle, but I'll leave that hobbyhorse for another day. What we saw, once again, was the disposability of unprivileged human beings and the default inhumanity to which brown and black people are subjected.

The administration was right to apologize immediately, and to name its behavior as cruel and unusual. But this is not an instance of dayaynu. Far into the future, people who live in intolerable circumstances will find their way to our border and ask for relief. Some people with hearts of stone will want to militarize the crossing points and hide behind sound bites like a country's legitimate right to define its citizenry. I'll acknowledge the abstract rightness of that claim and point to fact that it is usually a mask for red-meat, populist, hyper-nationalism.

Whatever happens next, would-be immigrants have to be treated with dignity in arrangements that would likely cost a fraction of the bill for a cockamamie wall. That means food, housing, toilets, education for children, diapers, and the basic necessities of refugee life. And then we have to give hard, sustained thought to the right thing under the circumstances. Isn't abject misery and collapse of government and essential services in one's home country a legitimate reason to seek citizenship elsewhere? Haven't impoverished Haitians endured enough?

We will be judged not on how we treat our kinsmen, but how we welcome the stranger. I pray that we will not be judged harshly.

BAR MITZVAH

GAVIN MICHAEL ZELKIND

Gavin Michael Zelkind, son of Dr. Garrett and Deborah Zelkind, will become a Bar Mitzvah on October 9th, 2021.

Gavin is an eighth grader at Jenks Middle School. He participated in the North Central Directors Association Honor Band playing trumpet and is an active Boy Scout. He enjoys traveling, camping and spending time with family and friends.

Gavin has attended Bnai Emunah Sunday school, Hebrew Language Lab and is looking forward to Midrasha beginning this year. He has been a Camp Shalom camper for nine years and most recently a Counselor-In-Training.

Gavin has three siblings, Nathan (22), Joshua (15) and Mason (9). He is the grandson of Joe Kleiner and Judy Kleiner (of blessed memory) of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Dr Glen and Bobbie Zelkind of Aurora, Colorado; and Bennie Zelkind of Louisville, Kentucky.

Due to the pandemic, in October of 2020, Gavin led services and chanted his Haftorah from home. He is looking forward to the opportunity to lead services in person surrounded by family and friends. Preparations for his Bar Mitzvah have been led by Greg Raskin and Sara Levitt. The community is invited to join the Zelkind family for services at 9:30a.m. on Zoom in the Synagogue Zoom Room. The meeting ID is 918 583 7121

NEW MEMBERS

OUR GROWING COMMUNITY

We're delighted to note the affiliation of these new households with the Synagogue. As our congregational family continues to grow, we hope that you will look for these new faces and make one and all feel welcome and at home!

Andrew and Leslie Markman

If you meet anyone who is looking for a congregational home, please make contact with Rabbi Kaiman at rdk@bnaiemunah.com, or Membership Chair Steve Aberson at saberson@gmail.com. We would be glad to make personal contact in short order.

PRACTICAL MATTERS

HOSPITALS

The big issue in the local hospital community is the influx of COVID patients and the difficulty of finding space and personnel. Because of the transmissability concern, visits also have been severely controlled.

The other matter of concern is privacy. While highly desirable in and of itself, it means that we are no longer getting regular updates on hospital admissions. That is especially true at St. Francis and Hillcrest. We are working to resolve this question, but please assume that if you are admitted to the hospital, there is a strong likelihood that we will not automatically know about this at the Synagogue. If you would like to be listed on our Hospital Roster, please call (918) 583-7121.

THE EAR WORM

It was the first beautiful day in Tulsa and the first full day of Sukkot when we spent most of the day playing outside in the Sukkah in our backyard. Our two-and-a-half-year-old, Lior, was riding his balance bike around the yard and singing under his breath a song we had been singing at ShulSchool days before. Hear God, Touch God, Taste God, I heard him singing as he made circles around our Sukkah.

My Jewish educator's heart skipped a beat outside of my parental pride in my child singing beloved Jewish songs. Our youngest student had done the thing we always hoped for. He took what he learned and heard and felt on Sunday morning at his Synagogue and brought it home.

I know, however, that Lior is not the only child making these connections. Time and time again, I hear from parents who want to know the lyrics to Jewish songs because they want to sing with their child or play them at their home or learn more about what their children are singing on the car ride home.

These moments—the connections our children make between the musical ear worms in their brains and Jewish values, stories, holidays, and more—are what we as Jewish educators and parents dream of. As the pandemic lifts and we continue to figure out how to live safely with this virus, we're looking to bring back and expand our youth music programs.

Please look out for the revival of Zemer, our Youth Choir, and the addition of student musicians to the Zemer band. In the meantime, you too can listen to the music of Shul-School by finding our playlist on Spotify entitled The Music of ShulSchool.

SPECIAL EVENTS

BLATT+BLUE: "TJAZZ SINGER" ON OCTOBER 14

Al Jolson's "The Jazz Singer" may be the most famous film you've never seen. Released in 1927, it was the first feature-length "talkie," with both music and dialogue embedded in the film. The story is a classic immigration tale about young Jakie Rabinowitz who breaks with his father, a fourth-generation cantor eager to see him shoulder the sacred calling of his family. Jakie is drawn instead to music of the era and seeks a career on Broadway.

Filmed by director Alan Crosland, the film is deeply sentimental and, in our own era, highly problematic, setting up questions about appropriation, stereotyping, and the place of minorities, including Jews and African-Americans in American culture. It deserves a careful conversation about the power of film to create moments of both meaning and discordance.

The Synagogue's ongoing program on Jewish cinema and television will take up these issues on the evening of Thursday, October 14 at 7:00 p.m. at the next edition of Blatt + Blue. For the last eighteen months, this series has featured film and television enthusiasts David Blatt and Alice Blue, who begin each session with a summary of the featured material. It means that you'll be able to follow the conversation even if you have to delay your viewing of the film itself. After that, it's questions and comments from the Zoom Room audience.

The film is available for a small fee on Amazon Prime and can be viewed at your convenience. The discussion group will gather in the Synagogue Zoom Room at 918 583 7121, and the session will conclude at 8:00 p.m. If there is a film you'd like to see in these sessions in the future, please reach out to Natalie Shaver, Synagogue Program Director, at nshaver@bnaiemunah.com.

FROM RABBI KAIMAN

ALAYNU: IT'S UPON US

I'm typically not one for big shows of emotion, but several times over the past several weeks, I've been brought to tears by gestures of generosity and self-sacrifice in support of our efforts in the area of refugee resettlement. In response to this new endeavor, the financial contributions, offers of meals, apartments, and almost anything else have been truly overwhelming. I've tried to respond to every email, but I know some remain unanswered. I'll be doing my best to keep up, but what has been proven true already is something I sensed was the case all along. Refugee resettlement is an ideal project for our Synagogue community.

We're now deeper into our relationship with HIAS (the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society). With every week, we're learning more and more about the contours of what our resettlement office will look like when we're "up and running." Of course, there's still plenty to do, but we're also waiting to see exactly how things will play out. One of my mentors in refugee resettlement keeps telling me that this is a "hurry up and wait" moment for everyone in this work.

However, we know that many of you are eager to learn more about what this work will look like and how you can involve yourselves. So, in addition to the many individual conversations which we'll continue to have over the coming weeks, we've set aside a time on Sunday morning, October 24, for an info session to learn more about this effort. The time will be 10:00 a.m., and Zoom will be an ideal forum. We'll have our representatives from our national partners with us that morning as well. We're calling this work Alaynu, which is the Hebrew for It is upon us. So many have and will step forward to offer a hand to refugees at this moment. But it is also upon us to keep this work moving forward as we build towards being the type of community we expect ourselves to be.

AT THE SYNAGOGUE

Now that were beyond the High Holidays, we wanted to remind you of the basic standards in place at the Synagogue. Please remember that if you are over twelve, you need to be vaccinated in order to enter the Synagogue building for any purpose. At the same time, you do not need to present paperwork or a vaccine card. If you say that you have been vaccinated, we want to communicate trust and mutual respect. That is the very best way for us to behave as an institution.

On the question of masks, we currently require that you make masking a part of your B'nai Emunah practice. We acknowledge that a vaccinated person is unlikely to experience breakthrough infection with serious consequences. But we are still concerned about children under 12 (we have hundreds of them in the building), those who cannot be vaccinated because it would put their lives in jeopardy, and immunocompromised persons whose vaccination may not be sufficient to protect them. Please be a very good citizen and wear a mask in the building.

Finally, we are reducing both the number of people that can be in one room at a given time and the time spent in that room. In practical terms, our standard is partial-occupancy and shorter-than-normal gathering times. That is in keeping with the advice of Dr. Bruce Dart, who is now advising the Synagogue on best practices during the pandemic.

Over the High Holidays, many of you bothered to say that you appreciated the precautions of the Synagogue and the time and energy invested in our online celebration. Thanks so much for your reassurances. This period will ultimately pass, but in the meantime, we appreciate your patience and the generosity of your compliments.

BAKER'S DOZEN RETURNS

Those who bake are earnestly invited to join this project and deliver their treats to the Synagogue front door on Monday of each week between noon and 5:00 p.m. We'll take it from there, delivering to emergency rooms, nurses stations, public service agencies—wherever people are laboring to provide comfort, care, and pandemic-period services.

Special note to challah bakers: we'd like to ramp up our efforts to get Shabbat challot to members of the congregation who are ill, bereaved, or in a state of discomfort. It is remarkable what two simple loaves can accomplish to lift the spirits of those who are down. If you've got challah-baking time to contribute, please make contact with Morah Sara Levitt at slevitt@bnaiemunah.com.

BAR MITZVAH

BROCK DAVID TAUBMAN

Brock David Taubman, the son of Dr. Kevin and Angela Taubman, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah during our Havdalah service on Saturday, October 23, 2021.

Currently a seventh grade student at the Stanley Clark School in South Bend, Indiana, Brock enjoys many of his subjects, but particularly history, drama, and speech and debate. As a highlight of this past summer, Brock took part in a mock trial camp and is looking forward to joining a mock trial team next year. He also enjoys spending time with friends and family, and his two dogs.

Brock has two older brothers, Jordan Taubman of Sacramento, California and Kyle Taubman of South Bend, Indiana. He is the grandson of Dr. Arthur Taubman and Patricia Taubman, both of blessed memory, and Kim and Kathy Downer of Oroville, California.

For his Mitzvah Project, Brock is collecting donations for refugees from Afghanistan. Preparations for Brock's Bar Mitzvah have been led by Elliott Wulff and Sara Levitt. Brock and his family are extremely grateful for all of the support and encouragement in preparation for this memorable day.

The entire community is invited to join the Taubman family for services in the Synagogue Zoom Room. The meeting ID is 918 583 7121.
